George Robert Hightower, 1912-1916

Bio/History Note

George Robert Hightower was born on October 15, 1865 in Grenada County, Mississippi. He attended the Buena Vista Normal College in Okolona, Mississippi and began his career as an educator in the 1890s. In 1899, he ran for public office and was elected to the state legislature. He soon after ran for the state senate, defeating Colonel J. W. T. Faulkner, father of noted author William Faulkner. In 1908, Hightower resigned from the senate and accepted the position as president of the Mississippi Farmer's Union. In 1912, Gov. Earl Brewer nominated Hightower to be president of the Mississippi A. & M. College. He held the post until 1916 when he resigned due to differences with the new governor, Theodore G. Bilbo. He then moved to Natchez, Mississippi where he had purchased a plantation. In 1926 he was appointed to the new State Tax Commission, and in 1942, he was appointed chairman of the state Parole Board. Hightower died in February, 1958.
